LARCENT OF MONEY .- A woman named Jennie Taylor was arraigned before Squire Wilkinson yesterday, on the charge of having stolen ten dollars from the pocket of a man named Schott. Miss Taylor is a denizen of the locality known as "Smakey Row," and the aforesaid Schott was a visitor at her room when the money was taken. The Court fined Miss Taylor ten dollars and costs, and Schott recovered his missing

AN OLD BUMMER. -- On Wednesday evening the police picked up a dilapidated individual of bacchanalian propensities on College street, his head gently pillowed on a enseoned in a mortar bed. He said in reply to the inquiries of the officers that he had taken only one glass of beer, but that it flew to his head and made him sleepy. This story he repeated with much earnestness and dissembled innocence, while his breath smelt so strongly of whisky that it might have been set on fire with a candle. He is evidently a hardened old bummer. In default of the usual fine, he was sent down to the limestone retreat. He will be out again in a few days.

SAD ACCIDENT-ONE MAN SCALDED TO DEATH AND ANOTHER NOT EXPECTED TO SURVIVE.—On Wednesday evening as Mr. E. C. Drake, proprietor of a distillery near Goodlettsville, a few miles out on the Edgefield and Kentucky Railroad, was engaged in regulating some of the fixtures about the boilers of his estalishment, one s estalishment, one of them burst, throwing a torrent of scalding liquid over his body. Medical aid was at once summoned, and everything was done to alleviate the miseries of the suffering man, but without effect, and he died | drew. early yesterday morning. An assistant in the distillery, a young man named Cuuningham, was also severely scalded, but may possibly survive. Mr. Drake was formerly Deputy Sheriffof Davidson cour. tv. and was highly reprected as a generous and public spirited man. His loss will be mourned by a wide circle of friends.

HOW A FELLOW'S MONEY WAS TAKEN CARE OF .- On Wednesday two rather fast young gents, Jno. Johnson and R. Page, did the city after the style of gentlemen of leisure, and by evening had become extremely friendly and confiding in each other. After dark they visited numerous saloons, not forgetting to take a little something at every bar. The mixed liquors imbibed by Mr. Page worked badly on his nerves, and it was not a great while before he became totally reckless. A trip to North College street was proposed, and off the parties started, Johnson, the soberer of the two, very thoughtfully and considerately taking possession of Page's money to prevent him from being robbed. After perambulating about the jungles for some time, Mr. Johnson left his friend in one of the "houses" and came up to Cedar street, where, bethinking him of his friend's money, and reflecting that he might make a neat little speculation thereby, could be but win several "centuries" at rouge et noir, or by some other equally fair means, he proceeded straight to one of the gaming saoons situated not a thousand miles from the precincts of Cedar street, between College and Cherry, where he succeeded in a very short space of time in losing his friend's as well as his own money. Page, coming to his senses yesterday, and feeling rather aggrieved, as would naturally be expected, at the shabby manner in which he had been treated, made complaint, and Johnson was arrested and brought before Squire Wilkinson. After an examination of the case Johnson was remanded to jail to await trial before the Criminal Court-

Proceedings of the Supreme Court. NASHVELLE, December 6th, 1866 .- The Court met this day at the usual hour. Present Judges Shackelford and Hawkins. Joseph Clarke, Esq., was sworn as a prac ticing attorney of this court. The case of Jared H. Graham et. al. vs. Mathew C. McKenley was filed as a writ of error. A motion of the Planters' Bank of Tennessee vs. Benjamin Chaffin, et. al., Sheriff' of Jackson county, was entered and continued until the 1st of January. Also motions of the Bank of Tennessee vs. Wm. Cannon, former Sheriff of Overton county, were entered and continued until a future day of this term. In the case of O. B. Wright vs. E. W. Bass, a certiorari was ordered returnable

The court adjourned to-day to meet again on the first Monday, it being the 7th of January next, when they will take up the unfinished business of the fifth and sixth circuits, after which the exventh circuit will be regularly reached and the business of the different circuits called, as heretofore announced.

performance will be given next Monday night at Masonic Hall. We can assure our readers that no such entertainment as that of the Hanlon's has ever before been presented to the public, and we predict for them a series of crowded and fashionable audiences during their stay among us, which is positively limited to six day's only. The troupe is now in Louisville, on the second week of their over-successful engagement, and we learn by our Louisville exchanges, that crowds are nightly turned from the doors, unable to gain admission at any price. Season tickets that are purchased of Dorman & Bang are transferrable. The regular sale of single seats or more for

THE ORPHANS CHRISTMAS FESTIVAL. Our readers are sware that the managers of the Protestant Orphan Asylum have purchased for that institution the large and suitable house recently owned by Dr. C. larceny, the jury returned a verdict of not D. Elliot. They are now making strenuous efforts to raise the means to meet the current expenses of the Asylum, as well as the amount needed to pay for the new site. Some few of our citizens have contributed liberally, but as yet no general response FUR SEASON, has been made. We are gratified to learn that during the approaching holidays all will have an opportunity to contribute to a charity which appeals with irresistible eloquence to the best feelings of the heart, in mode which will hardly be felt by the pocket, and which will be an agreeable adtion to the sociabilities of the Christmas

Marcus Harding possesses an unruly tongue which he often uses too freely. On Wednesday he got into a quarrel with an acquintance and expressed himself in language more strong than elegant. He was fined fourteen dollars for the offenseforked over the spondulix and retired. David Read was also arraigned on the charge of using language calculated to provoke a breach of the peace, and was fined seven dollars. A Mr. Knight was fined four dollars for posting bills contrary to law. Robert Lyax was arraigned on the charge of disorderly conduct, and was fined o the extent of twenty-nine dollars. Irvine Tansey was also disorderly to the extent of fourteen dollars. A SAD AND INEXPLICABLE CASE OF IN-SANITY.-Last night application was made at the police headquarters for permission to have an insane woman kept in a place of security at the workhouse for a day or two, until arrangements could be made at the Asylum for her reception. The facts connected with the case are rather strange and peculiar, sufficiently so to merit a word of mention. The woman's name is Griffin, and she has resided for some time past in the neighborhood west of the Chattanooga depot. She is upwards of forty years old, and a woman of respectable character. Her husband is one of the overseers on the bridge now building across the Tennessee river at Johnsonville, Last Monday night the woman retired in her usual frame of mind, but was up next morn ing unusually early, and her conduct was such as to excite the attention of the neighbors. It was at once seen that she was laboring under derangement of mind, her demeanor towards some of her most intimate friends being extremely vio lent, as though she concieved that they desired to kill her. Before any measure could be taken in her behalf, the poor woman suddenly left the house and re mained away two days. Last night she re turned home bareheaded and barefooted, having lost or thrown away her bonnet and
